

Tutoring System

To help exchange students get a good start, the FHS International Office sponsors a tutoring system operated by student volunteers. The main task of a student tutor is to provide the incoming student with practical information about the faculty and to introduce him / her to life in Prague.

Student Life

• International Student Club

The International Office, together with Czech students (tutors), organises cultural and social activities (tours of Prague, exhibitions, concerts, etc.) for international students.

• Film Club

The Film Club holds a film screening every two weeks throughout the semester. The current programme can be found on the club's website (<http://fkfhs.blogspot.cz/>).

Student Facilities

• Accommodation

Accommodation is provided in Charles University's halls of residence (dormitories). Students are normally housed in double-occupancy rooms.

• Student Cafeterias

Charles University operates a number of student cafeterias ('menza') at different locations. The FHS cafeteria is located on the ground floor of the main building in Jinonice.

• Library

The Charles University library system is decentralized and consists of a number of libraries at different locations. The FHS library can be found on the ground floor of the main building in Jinonice.

• Computers and Internet Access

PC workstations are available in the computer labs in various university buildings. Wireless Internet can be accessed inside the university buildings (a Charles University Student Card is required).

• Sport facilities

Sport facilities are located in the Hostivař campus (Bruslařská 1132, Prague 15).

Faculty of Humanities, Charles University in Prague

Charles University

Charles University (CU) in Prague, founded in 1348 by the King of Bohemia and Holy Roman Emperor Charles IV, is the oldest university in Central Europe. At the time of its foundation, the university consisted of four faculties; it currently has 17 faculties, 3 university institutes, and 6 other centres. CU is an accredited public university and an autonomous research and educational establishment. CU is headed by the Rector and the Academic Senate is the university's supreme self-regulating academic body. According to Shanghai University's Academic Ranking of World Universities, CU is one of the world's top 300 universities.

Prague

The capital and largest city of the Czech Republic has been a thriving cultural and political centre since the Middle Ages. 'The city of a hundred spires' or 'Golden Prague' is home to a unique collection of historical monuments built in various styles and dominated by Prague Castle. The historical city centre, set on both banks of the Vltava River, has been listed in the UNESCO World Cultural and Natural Heritage Register since 1992.

History

The Faculty of Humanities (FHS) is Charles University's youngest faculty. Originally founded in the early 1990s as the Institute for Liberal Education, it was elevated to the rank of a faculty in 2000, the vision being that it would offer study programmes at the Bachelor, Master's and PhD levels in various humanities and social science disciplines not yet established at CU. The FHS quickly gained a reputation as a progressive school with innovative study programmes and teaching methods.

Mission

The mission of the Faculty of Humanities is through high-quality education to endow students with the ability to lead a fulfilling life in this increasingly complex and changing world.

Goals

- to provide education in the humanities and social sciences that meets the highest international standards;
- to achieve excellence in research and integrate it with education;
- to cultivate the ability of students to learn throughout life and encourage self-responsibility and a commitment to society;
- to promote the mobility of the FHS's increasingly international student body and academic staff.

Research

The Faculty of Humanities is dedicated to excellence in various areas of academic research. The faculty participates in international and national research projects and promotes young researchers' academic development.

Exchange students

Erasmus

The number of exchange students attending FHS increases steadily every year. The most popular exchange programme is the EU-sponsored Erasmus. Visiting students attend courses in English together with Czech students; courses offered by other CU faculties are also open to them, subject to availability. FHS offers an interesting selection of courses in the humanities and social sciences every semester.

European Credit Transfer System (ECTS)

To ensure compatibility of credits and grades earned with other European higher education systems, FHS uses the European credit transfer system. ECTS credits are based on the course workload (1 ECTS credit = 25 hours of work). Students are expected to obtain 60 ECTS credits per academic year of full-time study.

Course Catalogue

The Course Catalogue is available online in the Student Information System (SIS); it contains detailed information on all courses (annotations and syllabuses) and schedules.

See: is.cuni.cz/studium/index.php

Czech Language Course

The Czech Language Course is designed for international students with no previous knowledge of Czech. There is no entrance exam or fee, but students are required to buy a course book.

Undergraduate Programme in Central European Studies

FHS participates in the Undergraduate Programme in Central European Studies (UPCES) offered in cooperation with CERGE-EI. This programme is open to students from top-tier American universities and FHS students (including FHS exchange students). FHS students can choose any course and join the excursions or cultural events held as a part of the programme. The courses focus on the history, politics, society, culture, literature and philosophy of Central Europe.

Erasmus Mundus EuroPhilosophie (Master's Programme)

The Erasmus Mundus Master's Programme German and French Philosophy in the European Context (EuroPhilosophie) offers highly qualified students from around the world an advanced study course in the field of German and French philosophy. Over two years, students spend one to two semesters at three of the seven European universities participating in this programme (Bochum, Louvain-la-Neuve, Luxembourg, Munich, Prague, Toulouse and Wuppertal). Programme graduates are awarded a joint Master's degree from three participating universities.

FHS International Office

The FHS International Office coordinates student, teacher and staff mobility. The office is responsible for contacts with partner institutions in other countries and for promoting international cooperation. The office also provides counselling and support to incoming and outgoing students.
